Types of Tuition and Fees

- Statutory Tuition – an amount of tuition set in statute that institutions must charge resident or nonresident undergraduate students.
- Designated Tuition – additional tuition charges determined by each institution's governing board.
- Board Authorized Tuition – additional tuition charges for graduate programs also determined by each institution's governing board.
- Mandatory Fees – fees charged to a student upon enrollment to provide services to every student.
- Non-mandatory Course Fees – fees required by all students enrolled in a particular course.

Overview of Tuition Deregulation

- Until 2003, tuition rates for public institutions of higher education were set by the Texas Legislature.
- In 2003, the 78th Legislature, Regular Session, passed House Bill 3015, allowing the governing boards of public institutions to set different designated tuition rates for each institution.
- Tuition deregulation became effective on September 1, 2003.

Trends Since Deregulation – Methodology

- Analysis included state support (General Revenue and significant Other Funds appropriations) and tuition and fee data from the Higher Education Coordinating Board for the General Academic Institutions (GAIs) from fiscal year 2004 to fiscal year 2015.
- All adjustments for inflation are based on the Consumer Price Index – All Urban Consumers (CPI-U) and represent inflation-adjusted values in fiscal year 2004 dollars.

Tuition and Fee Rates

- Since tuition deregulation, the statewide average for total academic charges for an undergraduate resident student taking 15 semester credit hours (SCH) increased 112 percent from Fall 2003 to Fall 2014. However, the level of tuition increase varies by institution.

	Fall 2003	Fall 2014	Percent Change
